the Virginian-Pilot last night says:

A telegram from Ashland states that the condition of Pev. Dr. A. G. Brown, the well known Methodist divine, who has been very ill, was considerably improved to-day, though he is still quite ill. Dr. Prown had a severe sinking spell yesterday but rallied and rested well last night. The result is seen in to-day's improvement. His recovery is still a matter of some doubt.

Yesterday's Baltimore Sun says: "The small steamer Volunteer, purchased in Philadelphia by the Southenased in Palidacipals by the South-ern Railway for ferry service between West Norfolk, Pinner's Point and Nor-folk, has made complete repairs at Woodal'is shiward and the machine sheers of Charles Reeder & Sons, Sie made a run down the river yesterday, and is expected to be ready to sail for Norfolk to-morrow."

Richmond Parties Tried to Dump Tuberculous Cattle in Norfolk,

Prompt Action of Local Government

Several days ago the Virginian-Pilot learned of the shipment by Richmond berculous cattle to Norfolk.

This journal did not give publicity to the fact at that time, as it was informed that action would be taken by loca! health department and the United Sintes Government quarantine officers, looking to their immediate removal elegant fabric. from this section.

The cattle were soon shipped back to Richmond.

The cattle were shipped from Charles-on, S. C., to Richmond. The secretary of INSPECTION OF MILK AND MEAT.

The result of this shipment is fortunate to the people of Norfolk, although it may prove very unfortunate to the people of Elchmond, who have been eating the diseased meat, but such good fortune may not always occur and tuberculous cattle may be dumped on this city from other points. The matter will probably raise the question of a risid official inspection of milk and meat and crittle brought here to be slaurhtered for the Norfolk market.

Asked as to his own opinion in the matter, Dr. Newbill stated that he is and has been strongly in favor of local inspection of meat and wilk in order to stund the public from tubuculous infection.
